

FY 75 KIQ STRATEGY REPORT
NSA & DIA Declassification/Release Instructions on File

25 October 1974

SOVIET NAVAL SYSTEMS

KIQ 18: What is the status of Soviet RDT&E on, and what progress is being made toward deployment of, and reporting improvements in, a satellite-borne ocean surveillance system?

I. COMMUNITY COLLECTION AND PRODUCTION STRATEGY

A. The questions with regard to this KIQ are both technical and force-related. During the next year we should make an assessment of the military capability represented by the current Soviet efforts in this field and improvements likely over the near term.

Our assessment should include judgments on:

& NSA 25X3

B. Production: FTD through DIA will produce a yearly report on all satellite systems. Guided Missile and Astronautics Intelligence Committee (GMAIC) will hold seminars as appropriate during the year to aid in the assessment of characteristics of the satellite systems and to develop a plan for collectors. The US Navy, DIA, CIA and [REDACTED] will all produce memoranda on various aspects of the systems as evidence becomes available and analysis is completed.
